Venice, CA – 2332 Collective, the creative dream child of Venice local Blake Caldwell, is making an imprint in the local music scene. 2332 Collective came to life last summer and in their infancy produced their debut event, “Uncle Sam Jam,” which drew 1500 people to see Sebu of Capital Cities headline. This year they’ve teamed up with 2332 Collective and Winston House to present the Venice Block Party. Restless Group threw the Venice Block Party in 2016, so together, 2332 Collective and Restless Group are hosting the 3rd Annual Venice Block Party.

The “Venice Block Party” takes place on July 2nd (12pm-8pm) on the surrounding block of the 2332 Collective HQ, off the famed Abbot Kinney Blvd. Last year’s Uncle Sam Jam was a hit that attracted the likes of 1500 attendees. This time around it’s only expected to be bigger! There will be plenty of local food vendors, outdoor games, lounge areas, live art, and of course alcohol! (21+)

It wouldn’t be a block party without music, so guests can expect a full day of electrifying music acts from a range of diverse genres. Indie electronic band Phantogram will headline with an energizing DJ set by their lead members, Sarah and Josh. They will also be joined by Grizfolk, The Palms (founding members of Terraplane Suns), isle&fever, Winston House Special Guests, Corey Harper, DIY, and many more yet to be announced acts.

The Venice Block Party is in benefit of Peace4Kids, a non-profit whose mission is to empower foster youth through the arts. This event will not only be packed to the brim with exceptional music and fun, but it will also help facilitate an impact in the local community.
